

6th May 2021

Dear Parents & Carers,

Just a reminder that tomorrow is NSPCC Number Day. During the day the children will explore different Maths and Number tasks, which have been provided by the NSPCC.

As well as raising awareness to Maths and Number, the day also aims to raise money for the NSPCC.

Tomorrow (Friday 7th May) the children may come to school wearing/displaying a digit/number and bring a £1 donation in for the NSPCC.

More information (and a few picture ideas for number/digit outfits) can be found here

90% of funding to the NSPCC comes from people supporting the charity. Here is an idea of what they allocate some of their donations towards...

- £4 pays for 1 of our trained volunteer counsellors to answer a child's call for help to Childline.
- £3 pays for the Speak out Stay Safe Programme to reach 1 primary school child, empowering them to speak out if they're worried about anything
- £5 covers the cost of answering 1 call to the NSPCC Helpline.

During the current pandemic, NSPCC has seen an increase in their services being utilised. Hopefully, supporting Number Day within our school will allow us to raise funds to support them further.

We look forward to seeing all the numbers and digits tomorrow.

Thank you for your continued support
