

I found this recipe for making paint at home but there are lots more on the internet that you could use and have included a link for another good website I found. Because I can't get out at the moment, I'm having to improvise too.*

To make your own paint, mix 1 cup of warm water and 12 ounces each of white flour and table salt until you have a smooth liquid. Then, separate the mixture into different containers, and mix in 2-3 drops of food coloring to each container until it's a solid color.

http://www.sciencemadesimple.co.uk/exploring-science/make_your_own_paint